

Flood Mural in Mozambique

Abstract

A mural that shows what people can do before, during or after a flood to reduce its impact. Including painted links to social media, apps, SMS services, and radio stations. That is what 'Our Flood Mural' in Beira, Mozambique is about.

It is currently being painted on a wall in a busy market area. A special combination of traditional and contemporary communication, fitting within the local culture, effective in its simplicity. An initiative from NWP members HKV and IHE Delft, and the Netherlands Red Cross.

Also read the article about this project that recently appeared in the NWP newsletter (Netherlands Water Partnership):

<https://www.netherlandswaterpartnership.com/news/our-flood-mural-mozambique-simply-effective>

Key words: ourfloodmural, mural, livingwithfloods, flood awareness, Mozambique, Beira